

Press-release

2 new analysts in SKM Market Predictor AS

SKM Market Predictor AS is a major supplier of unbiased and independent power and elcert market analysis and advisory services has employed 2 new analysts from the 1st of September.

Jouni Tuomaala has been employed as a senior analyst in the company's office in Helsinki. He started his career in the power market in 2001 and has been working as a portfolio manager and power trader in the Vantaa Energi and Solidus recently. Jouni has Master of Science degree from the University of Tampere.

Igor Pipkin is joining company's new office in Oslo as analyst. He previously worked for NENA. Igor is a Ph.D candidate in the University College in Østfold in the area of Energy Finance.

The company is looking for more experience analysts due to high level of activity and many positive prospects.

Contact persons:

Viktor Balyberdin

Managing Director

SKM Market Predictor AS

Email: viktor.balyberdin@skm.no

Mobile: +47 99595909

Editor's notes:

About SKM Market Predictor AS

Since 1992 SKM Market Predictor has been a major supplier of unbiased power and elcert market analyses and holds no position in the power market. The company provides services that are tailored to meet the needs of traders, producers, distributors, merchant banks and executive management. Holding a market share of more than 30% within Scandinavia, SKM Market Predictor serves clients in several other European countries and is recognized as providing the highest quality of professional analysis and advisory services. SKM has extensive experience of price forecasting in regulated as well as deregulated markets.